Asha Rosa is a poet, activist, and Columbia student. She is a third year African American Studies major, a member of Students Against Mass Incarceration and one of the organizers of the Columbia Prison Divest campaign. Asha is also the Co Chair of the New York City chapter of the Black Youth Project 100 and recently travelled to Geneva, Switzerland to present a report on police violence to the United Nations as part of a youth of color delegation called We Charge Genocide.